

Yavneh Day School

Head of School Search Information for Candidates

Join Yavneh Day School where academic excellence, treasured traditions, and innovative learning come to life in a vibrant and warm community.

Yavneh's History

In 1980, a group of dedicated lay and educational leaders recognized a growing need for a community Jewish day school in Silicon Valley's South Bay community. Our founders believed that this new school would represent the merging of the modern world with the great traditions of the Jewish people. The name "Yavneh" was chosen as both a tribute to the ancient city of learning and as an acronym for the ceremony of Havdalah, which marks the distinction between the Sabbath and the rest of the week.

Yavneh welcomed its first students to campus in 1981 at Congregation Beth David. It relocated shortly thereafter to its current location at the Gloria and Ken Levy Family Campus in Los Gatos which is the site of the former Berry School. Yavneh was originally founded as a Solomon Schechter affiliated preschool through 5th grade program. Over the years, it evolved into a non-denominational, K-8 Jewish community day school, with the transfer of its preschool to the auspices of the Jewish Community Center in 1987 and the addition of a middle school in 2005.

Yavneh Day School embraces a wonderful synergy by virtue of its location on the Gloria and Ken Levy Family Campus, which also houses the Addison-Penzak Jewish Community Center and Preschool, Jewish Family Services, and the Jewish Silicon Valley. Yavneh's focus on community is strengthened by its proximity to and interaction with these agencies that are so important to local Jewish life and learning.

Since its inception, Yavneh has been on the cutting edge of pedagogical best practices, and to this day is committed to academic excellence in all areas of study within a strong, vibrant Jewish community where each child is celebrated and challenged. In recognition of these practices, Yavneh was designated an Exemplary High Performing National Blue Ribbon School in 2020.

A Yavneh education is about discovering how a child learns in order to maximize each student's potential while fostering curiosity, encouraging risk taking, and ingraining a love of learning. Through a commitment to relevant learning, inclusion of all students, intentional study of Jewish values, and a focus on community, Yavneh fulfills its mission and its commitment to the next generation.

Fundamental Beliefs

Yavneh's community of exceptional educators develops programming and curriculum with intentionality that is rooted in the school's four Fundamental Beliefs. These core beliefs offer the "why" behind our vibrant curriculum and rich learning environment:

1. Learning is meaningful when it is relevant.
2. Everyone benefits from a diverse learning environment.
3. Dynamic Jewish learning is integral to a purposeful life.
4. Understanding is profoundly deepened through learning in relationship with one another and within the support of a community.

Jewish Life at Yavneh

Yavneh Day School is a laboratory for Jewish life. Every day students have the opportunity to bring the stories, lessons, and values of Jewish tradition to life and apply them to 21st-century situations. At Yavneh, the Torah is more than a scroll that resides in an ark; it lives in how our students treat each other on the playground, ask inquisitive questions in class, and help those in the broader community.

Living Jewish values daily takes many forms at Yavneh: critical thinking and interactive learning of sacred texts and academic curriculum, solving challenges on the playground through the lens of Jewish values, using the lessons of our Jewish tradition to repair the world around us, and communal joyous celebrations of Jewish holidays. Through opportunities like leading their peers and parents in prayer, being a teacher and buddy to a younger student, or presenting their thoughts on a Jewish holiday or text to the entire school, Yavneh students also develop confidence and public speaking skills that last a lifetime. Through each of these activities, students engage with Jewish life in powerfully authentic and integrated ways that shape their Jewish identities well into the future.

Future Leadership

Yavneh Day School has a proud history, a compelling mission, a supportive community, and a bright future. We seek a talented and community-oriented leader with a passion for education and a deep commitment to Jewish life and learning. The Head of School must be able to ensure the stability and growth of Yavneh. Yavneh Day School is at an exciting inflection point and our next Head of School will need to harness that potential and establish a meaningful vision for the future.

Strengths of Yavneh Day School:

- Yavneh is a strong and vibrant community where learning comes to life.
- Our integrated curriculum and commitment to Hebrew learning inspires students to develop strong Jewish identities and a connection to Israel that lasts a lifetime.
- Teachers, staff, and administrators are deeply committed to excellence in education and meeting students where they are with tools to help teach diverse learners.
- Yavneh truly believes everyone can learn - this growth mindset serves our community well.
- Yavneh is warm, welcoming, and inclusive with a culture of collaboration and a supportive parent body.
- At Yavneh, children are seen and known within the entire school community and student interests play a critical role in advancing the core curriculum.
- Yavneh's curriculum is innovative and robust across all subject areas.
